Taxing Matters

By Jim Wilson, CPA

Just sat down to watch the evening news. What an Awakening!?

Have you counted the number of altercations in the news lately? It is as if human nature is just contrary and growing worse. The early news leads with a story about two young girls who met in a pharmacy. There was nothing special about that, except that they had a conversation and one or each of them had some choice words for the other...there was no evidence that the girls knew each other prior to the argumentative language. Before long, they walked out of the pharmacy and continued to talk. Quickly, the discussion turned sour and within a very short period of time, one of the girls was dead as result of a knife attack. While there was nothing that indicated the two knew each other prior to the altercation, one was dead and the other was on the run. Why?

This kind of report is not totally unusual. There are altercations that arise from normal conversation quite often. Could it be possible that people have just become argumentative over insignificant variances in opinion? If so, what could have been the nature of the conversation that would end in murder? The newscaster indicated that the girl who was murdered was a local high-school student of some outstanding reputation. Now she is gone, her family is torn apart and the murderer is "in the wind" and facing charges. Why can't we just get along? My prayer is that we will consider others more highly than we consider ourselves.

When I was a Child. . .

Focus on this for a moment, "When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things." I Corinthians 13 Maturation changes lots of things in the human life. If someone of older age acts like a child we call him a childish person. The transition is quick in some and much slower in others. Paul said, "Throw off everything that hinders us and the sin that so easily entangles us." Hebrews 12:1 Our Spiritual maturity is can be impaired by refusing to mature. Paul warns us to throw off all that hinders us from Spiritual maturity. He uses the example of running a race and tells us to shed everything that hinders our progress, just as if we had hindrance while running.

His analysis is to "give it to God." At first that may feel scary but when we lay down our burden that impairs our progress. Giving it to God in faith brings us freedom. Runners understand that they must run with perseverance and remove any hindrance to succeed. So it is with serving God. So, our daily striving must be practiced in faith and throwing off all hindrance. Someone said it this way, "Let go and let God."

Start each day by giving it to God; begin each day in prayer; read Scripture each day; seek encouragement each day; and, renew your mind continually.

can easily access a list of local restaurants, stores, and other businesses that give Veterans a discount. And businesses that want to be included on the discount list can register right on the app."

Additionally, the app offers access to online Voter Registration, a fee calculator for Register of Deeds services, and buttons for instantly contacting the Register's staff by phone or email.

The Davidson County Register of Deeds office is the custodian of all documents relating to property – warranty deeds, deeds of trust, releases, powers of attorney, liens, property plats, and other records designated by state law. The app now makes a number of these documents available on mobile devices.

"Our office prides itself in customer service that makes all of our services accessible," Johnson said. "The app is not designed to replace our experienced staff. We are still available in person for one-on-one assistance, and by phone and email to answer questions and assist with any part of recording or accessing your property documents.

The Nashville Davidson County Register app is available free of charge at the App Store for Apple iOS devices and at Google Play for Android devices. Search for it by name: Nashville - Davidson Co. ROD.

From property owners to mortgage and title companies to Veterans, those served by the Davidson County Register of Deeds Office now have a mobile app to access many of the office's services, Register Karen Johnson announced Tuesday.

"The Nashville Davidson County Register app puts a number of our services at your fingertip," Johnson said. "The app is connected to the Davidson Portal as well as the Davidson County Parcel Viewer, so that many of the documents that owners, title and mortgage companies, closing attorneys, and others need are accessible on their mobile devices."

Also available on the app are two newer services that Johnson has implemented – the Property Alert for guarding against fraud and the Thank a Veteran program.

"You can sign up on the app for our Property Alert service, which notifies you by email if any document is filed in our office under your name," Johnson explained. "Our Veterans already record their DD214 honorable discharge papers with us in person.

"Now, with the app, they
